Dear Colleague,

It is our pleasure to invite you to the Third Asian Pacific Conference: Perspectives in Lung Cancer which will be held 11-12 September 2009 in Bangkok, Thailand. Attendees from all lung cancer-related disciplines will find it to be a stimulating interactive and educational experience!

Created to provide state-of-the-art diagnosis and treatment information, this comprehensive conference focuses on the multimodal management of lung cancer. Guided by expert faculty from Asia, Europe, and North America, this conference features interactive case presentations that focus on innovations in diagnosis and staging, the latest therapies and techniques in the multidisciplinary management of non-small cell lung cancer, mesothelioma and small cell lung cancer.

As lung cancer research and treatment are constantly evolving, there are many issues in disease biology, management, and research that are intensely debated among those involved in these fields. Attendees will not only update their knowledge, but confirm their current practices, focus on the trends and evolutions worth watching and receive valuable take-home information on exciting new treatments and approaches.

We look forward to welcoming you in Bangkok, one of the most cosmopolitan, contrasting and compelling cities in Asia. We know you will find the Third Asian Pacific Conference: Perspectives in Lung Cancer to be a world-class educational event.

Sincerely,

Tony Mok, MD

Who Should Attend
This educational activity is intended for medical oncologists, radiation oncologists, thoracic surgeons, pulmonologists and other physicians in active clinical practice interested and/or involved in the management of patients with lung cancer.

Objectives
After successful completion of this course, attendees should be able to:

• Describe the epidemiology of lung cancer in Asia and evaluate emerging screening techniques
• Compare and contrast invasive versus non-invasive (MRI, CT, PET) procedures in the staging of lung cancer
• Discuss surgical issues and controversies related to the management and treatment of thoracic malignancies
• Examine the role of radiotherapy and emerging radiotherapeutic techniques in lung cancer
• Outline treatment options for patients with small cell lung cancer (SCLC), focusing on recent clinical advances in the management of this disease
• Translate the results of recent clinical trials in lung cancer and incorporate them into clinical practice
• Describe the emerging role of targeted therapies, specifically epidermal growth factor receptor (EGFR) and vascular endothelial growth factor (VEGF) inhibitors, in the treatment of thoracic malignancies
• Evaluate the use of biomarkers to predict the efficacy of EGFR-inhibitors, antiangiogenic therapies and antineoplastic agents in the treatment of patients with lung cancer
• Analyze the current lung cancer research techniques and methodology utilized throughout Asia
